The McLeod County Historical Society and Museum is thrilled to announce the arrival of a new and exciting research tool available for you to use here in our research Library at the McLeod County Historical Society and Museum:

Ancestry Library Edition!

Thanks to a generous Hutchinson Community Foundation Grant, the Museum's research library will have four computer workstations that will give you access to the following resources:

- U.S. and international documents online
- Images of original documents and photos
- Narratives, oral histories, indexes
- You can search over 30,000 Ancestry.com record collections and 11 billion records with a click of a button
- Access records and collections that span the 1500s–2000s
- Plus much more!

To use Ancestry Library Edition, stop in during our open hours or call to setup a reservation time with our In-house Research Librarian or other Museum staff. Members can use Ancestry for Free and guests pay an hourly rate. Copy and downloadable fees also apply.

About Library and Archives:

The Library and Archives at the Museum houses an extensive collection of historical books, many of which have been thoroughly indexed, State, County, Town, and Township records, along with general period history references. The library also includes books and periodicals on genealogy, vital statistics and historical and general subject indexes.

The museum's microfilm room has the newest Digital ST Reader/Printer, with OCR capabilities. The Microfilmed newspaper collection contains an extensive variety of County newspapers as well as census and naturalization records. The research Library has access to over 60,000 individual McLeod County objects, photos, documents and collection records via four workstations. These workstations can also be used to access Ancestry, to take your search global.

The Museum also holds a large archives, filled with photographs, maps, videos and audio tapes and original documents. Staff can pull these items for view and copies of these items can be purchased for a fee.
